SYNOPSIS

When a data center threatens their grandparents' lake house, Lulu and Petoskey – a fierce Dearborn city girl and hopeful Yooper farm boy – must conquer years of grief to save their home... and the world. Set during a family reunion in Elk Rapids, this folksy musical dramedy follows the Van Otterloo family rallying the community against a predatory tech giant. Driven by her brother's death in the Great Lakes, the company's grieving founder uses AI avatars of dead members of the Van Otterloos to steal their land and drain the lakes as environmental vendetta. Lulu, "pearl" in Arabic, is a metaphor for those who try to break out of their shells. Petoskey, the native fossil that reveals its true pattern in water, serves as a metaphor for ancestry, memory, and grief.

Michigan is inspired by David Quang Pham's upbringing and the MacGregors who invite him to celebrate Harbor Days at their lake house in Elk Rapids since being college roommates with their family member Lukas Jacob in 2014. In 2026, after a series of tragedies of his hometown and college theatre friends, he wrote this musical as a love letter to his family and communities in our home Mitten.

WHY NOW?

Michigan champions creativity, connections, and the environment against the rise of harmful technologies, symbolized by data centers taking over Michigan towns. By focusing on collective loss, the musical addresses today's mental health crisis, offering ways to heal through open communication and community. And it uses science and folklore to engage audiences in environmental and cultural literacy.

Michigan is Oklahoma craziness meets Fun Home tenderness meets Bright Star folksiness.

THEMES

Collective Grief and Emotional Healing

The story explores the long-term impact of grief after some family members' passings, demonstrating how silence fractures families while open communication fosters generational healing.

Community versus Corporation

The central conflict pits hand-made tradition against corporate greed, with data centers erasing local heritage, such as the family's lake house.

Geographic and Cultural Disconnection

The narrative highlights how families can become polarized by peninsulas, symbolized by the physical (and spiritual) barrier of the Mackinac Bridge separating the Upper and Lower Peninsula. The story leans into subcultures, pitting Yoopers against the Trolls.

Belonging and Identity

Through Lulu's competitive drive to outshine her cousins, the musical examines the painful adolescent struggle to fit into a Midwest family dynamic and find one's own sense of worth.

Nature, Folklore, and Science Literacy

The musical teaches paleontology, folklore, and what it means to be a Michigander through song.

The Immigrant Experience

This manifests through multiple layers, such as Shelby marrying an Arab man, Jasper Vinh Chin's Vietnamese restaurant (Banh MIchigan), and his realization that his refugee family stayed united across continents while local families are divided by peninsulas. It deals heavily with how different minority communities interact within the Midwest.

Economic Displacement and Xenophobia

The backstory reveals the harsh realities of blue-collar job loss during the 2008 recession, like David's own family in the automotive industry. It directly addresses the displaced anger that can arise from automated or immigrant replacement (Petey being fired and replaced by a migrant worker), showing the tragic intersection of economic desperation, racial tension, and family fallout.

The Power of Hand-Made Artistry

The family's century-old Ford Model T, their decades of hand-made costumes, and the town's rally around them showcase art and weirdness as a form of liberation.

Healing through Artistry, Spirituality, or Technology

Due to sharing the same tragedy involving the Mackinac Bridge. Amanda and Liz never crossed that bridge for years. Amanda also has disdain for water, so she makes more data centers to drain them. Amanda processes grief by losing artistry through AI while Cherry becomes more artistic and less tech-savvy.

PLOT SUMMARY

Michigan is a folksy musical dramedy set at a family reunion where two rival cousins fight a data center to save their grandparents' lake house and world. The themes explore grief, cultural disconnection of the peninsulas, and what it means to be a Michigander.

Grampy Willy and Granny Milly live in Elk Rapids on the north tip of the Lower Peninsula. They have four adult children – Cherry, Perry, Shelby, and the only son Petey, and some grandchildren. Every August, their Lake House lodges them for the annual Harbor Days. The Van Otterloo family is known for their century-old Ford Model T, wearing themed costumes for the parade, and winning every Most Creative Award ("The Mitten Song").

In 2008, Petey lives with his pregnant wife Lizzie in the Upper Peninsula. His childhood friend is Jasper Vinh Chin, who runs the Elk Rapids Vietnamese restaurant, BANH MIchigan. On a swim, he jokily promises to name their kid after the first rock he picks up, which turns out to be a heart-shaped Petoskey with an elk symbol ("Life is Complete").

With the recession, their shipyard job fires and replaces Petey and Liz with migrants. He then hurts his little sister Shelby due to her Arab husband. In a storm, he drives off the Mackinac Bridge to save their house on his life insurance. A detective finds his Petoskey. Ever since, Liz refuses to cross bridges, missing all family gatherings ("Body of Water").

For family reunions, the aunts take turns driving Petoskey to Elk Rapids then Milly drives him home. Jasper becomes his godfather. For every Mackinac Bridge crossing, he can hear his dad sing. And then there's his bright cousin from Dearborn, Lulu Abughosh. She always competes to find the rarest stones on their swims ("Yoopers and Trolls").

In 2020, Milly passes away, cancelling the 2020 and 2021 family reunions. Soon, data center agent Amanda Wayland tricks a grieving Willy into signing away the deed to his house by using Afterlife.AI to bring Milly and Petey back to life ("It Would Be a Shame").

In 2022, to honor Milly, 13-year-old Petoskey's mom returns for the first time since '08. They drive the long way through Wisconsin. Jasper helps the kids set up camp. He takes their snacks as "dad tax." The aunties take even more with "mom taxes" ("Dad Tax").

Though the family gather by the bonfire, 13-year-old Lulu is in her tent finishing a song. She revisits a time when she ran away and was saved from a car accident by deer. She thinks everyone sees her as a loser. She'd do anything to win their hearts ("Dearborn").

They realize Amanda tricked Willy into trading the Lake House for her AI that "brings loved ones back to life." She tours the home and sees a photo of Petoskey's heirloom. She wants it more than anything. So, he promises to trade it for the deed ("AI Does the Work for Me").

They need to find it in Pine River ("Wild Midwest"). He revisits a memory of Lulu losing the heirloom while canoeing in 2019, severing his dad's spiritual ties. So, he gathers everyone to find it. No one does ("Fish for Mom and Dad").

Michigan

Later that night on a dune, Lulu witnesses a deer pass by their bonfire. Next day, while Perry teaches fossils to the kids ("Time Does Heal"), Lulu separates and discovers a deer dropping off the heirloom and other rare rocks on the shore ("Gichigamiin").

After successfully bulldozing Ypsilanti, Amanda revisits a time when she and her techy brother were artists until his suicide killed her creative spirit ("The Starving Artist").

For Harbor Days' parade, Broadway actor cousin Jacob Jacobowitz is the Grand Marshal. So, the theme is theatre. Petoskey dresses as Oklahoma's Jud Fry while Lulu plays Evan Hansen. Before marching, she shows her rare findings to the family. To spite Petoskey, she breaks his father's necklace, unaware it was their only chance to save the Lake House from Amanda. The parade goes wrong as Petoskey beats up Lulu, disqualifying them for the first time ("Fraudway"). After his mom lectures him, he runs off ("Kick Rocks").

In the following act, Liz revisits a memory of Lulu and Petoskey at a talent show ("Hands Come in Handy"). Presently, she searches for him while Lulu tries to find him at Banh MI ("Petoskey"). Jasper shares his refugee family stayed united despite continents dividing them as well as a time when a Lebanese family bought out his family's failing restaurant but did not resort to blame as Petey had. The Van Otterloos are only divided by peninsulas. They realize Petoskey is at the Mackinac Bridge ("North South East West"). Meanwhile, Liz revisits her marriage proposal to Petey on a boat under it ("Natural Beauty").

They drive up to find him. She offers the broken stone as a truce, but he tosses it into the water ("Rock Bottom"). This causes the bridge to fog up where Michilimackinac, the Great Turtle appears. They share that stones are like family as they come and go to leave a mark. And they ask the kids to stop the data centers around Michigan due to its harm on the environment and its noisiness ("Family's in the Fossils").

They return to the fair where Amanda exhibits data center models for the oligarchs. Jasper offers his restaurant for the Lake House. The Van Otterloos return with years of costume while Amanda shows how much "better" AI is. But the town rallies for this creatively weird family, against AI's goal of turning lakes into data centers. Amanda and the crew steal the Ford, causing the town to chase after them. Liz, on her way to the Mackinac Bridge, tricks Amanda's GPS AI to go there. Her trauma causes her to crash off the side of the bridge. Everyone gets off, but the Ford falls into the strait below ("Leave No Stones Unturned").

It has been years since the death of their loved ones that Liz and Amanda have visited the Mackinac Bridge. In unison, the Van Otterloos and Amanda cross it, where they reunite with the souls of Petey and Conor. Amanda cancels her agreement to keep the Lake House. Elk Rapids is spared from a data center ("Water to My Soul").

Years later, Willy passes away. Lulu and Petoskey buy and fix up the Lake House. On January 26, 2037, Lansing holds a parade to celebrate the 200th anniversary of MI's statehood with representatives from every city marching. The theme is Pure Michigan. Representing Elk Rapids, the Van Otterloo family resembles the state's best ("Michigan").
